

Welcome to HackMIT 2023!

Get hyped!

HACKMIT
AUG 7 • 2023

Hey puzzler,

Congratulations - we are happy to inform you that you have been admitted to HackMIT 2023! Rurl was super impressed with your work on this year's admissions puzzle and we cannot wait to have you at our event this year.

Below are some important details and reminders about your acceptance:

Accepted Hacker Discord

Can't wait to meet your fellow hackers? Join the accepted hackers Discord to meet everyone you'll be hacking with! You'll also be able to form new teams, learn from mentors, meet sponsors, and more!

Confirming Your Spot

You will be able to formally confirm your spot on my.hackmit.org in the coming weeks, so keep an eye out for those forms!

If you will be traveling to HackMIT, we highly recommend you book your travel as soon as possible, since travel costs will rise. Check-in begins on Saturday, September 16th at 8:00 AM, and the event will end on Sunday, September 17th around 7:00 PM, so plan your travel accordingly! If you will be arriving on Friday night, we also will be holding pre-checkin on September 15th, tentatively from 9:00 PM to 11:00 PM.

Eligibility

As a quick reminder, you must be an enrolled undergraduate or MIT MEng student this upcoming semester in order to participate in HackMIT 2023. Graduate students and non-MIT minors will be turned away at the door.

That's all for now!

You can keep an eye out for further logistical details in the coming weeks, including a packing list, schedules, maps, and more, but for now, that's it from us! As always, feel free to reach out to help@hackmit.org with any questions, and congratulations again! :)

With <3,
Rurl & The HackMIT Team
